Quick starter guide

The quick starter guide was created with the intent for new Americans to complete their basic paperwork process. This process requires 4 main forms.

1. Declaration of 1779
2. Two Witnessess Testimony
3. Revocation of voter registration
4. Public Notice (if born outside of the 50 states borders)

These documents need to be autographed in a special way as described on each document. The Declaration of 1779 and the 2 Witness Testimony must be signed in front of a Notary or Recording Secretary.

At the time of your affirmation, you should have handy the following items: a blue and red ink pen, a red thumbprint pad and optional a bible.

It is recommended that you practice the autographs and thumbprints in preparation to your meeting with the Notary or Recording Secretary.

Choose Your Status

You have the right to declare your political status as an American State National or an American State Citizen.

American State National

An American State National owes no allegiance to anyone but must keep the peace. They may participate in general assembly meetings and vote on domestic (in-state) policy only. They are not eligible to hold an elected office within the State Assembly.

American State Citizen

An American State Citizen helps reconstruct the Florida government. They may participate in both general and executive assembly meetings, and vote on both domestic (in-state) and international (out of state) policy. Citizens are encouraged to be actively involved and are eligible to hold office in an elected position with the State Assembly.

Together we can lead the way to building a strong Florida Assembly on the Land and Soil.

Why 1779?

In July of 1779 the Founders faced a problem: how to identify Americans versus Brits and Dutch and Swedes and other nationalities living here in this country?

The 1779 Naturalization Act was the answer.

It's a very simple requirement by which our Forefathers identified themselves as Americans and not Brits, not French, not Dutch.... or any of the other options that were available in Colonial America.

We have been facing a similar problem today, in that our Federal Subcontractors have proliferated and promoted their citizenship(s) as separate political statuses, and have created False Registrations as Territorial U.S. Citizens and as Municipal "citizens of the United States" in our names without our knowledge or consent.

Once again, we need to declare our political status as Americans.

So, we use The 1779 Naturalization Act and we provide some necessary updates by which Americans, both those born within the physical borders of the States, in Washington D.C. and those who have been Naturalized as United States Citizens, may establish and/or re-verify their political status via recording their Declarations with their State Assemblies.
